DECEMBER 2025

WELCOME TO OUR

Monthly Newsletter

🎄 "The Gift Of Salvation" 🎄

Welcome to the December edition of The Prodigal Daughters' Daily newsletter! Whether you are a non-believer, babe in Christ or more seasoned in your walk, I'm so grateful that you're here and for the opportunity to share my journey with you.

With Christmas just around the corner, I'm grateful knowing that Jesus is our greatest gift! May His beauty shine through you, and His love envelop you and your loved ones this season. While this is a favorite time of year for many, it can also bring increased stress and feelings of being overwhelmed for various reasons. Be encouraged and stand firm on the truth of God's word. As stated in Matthew 6:33, "But seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you."

I hope you have a wonderful, joy-filled holiday surrounded by your loved ones. If you will be spending this Christmas alone, may God's peace, comfort, and love be with you. 🙏

Last month, I didn't post anything, although I intended to. Unfortunately, I've been experiencing spiritual warfare and am still learning how to put on the full armor of God. Please keep me in your prayers.

If you are new here this unique little blog aims to create a warm, intimate space where new believers can get comfy and cozy in God's Word. As someone fairly new to the faith myself, I understand how overwhelming, challenging, exciting, and oftentimes lonely this walk can be, so let's walk by faith together.

Surrender

LEARNING TO SIT AT HIS FEET

Last month, I intended to share my thoughts about the process of being in the refiner's fire. As a new believer, I am still in the early stages of this journey. However, I believe the Holy Spirit had other plans for me, as I experienced writer's block and struggled to write anything.

I realized that His plan was for me to be still and simply focus on being at His feet—without striving, forcing, or performing “good works.” Just being in full surrender. You may have heard the saying, “If you want to make God laugh, tell Him your plans.” This was definitely a learning experience for me, reminding me that I can't do anything in my own strength. I'm still learning what it means to fully surrender and allow the Holy Spirit to guide me. At this stage in my faith, I don't feel mature enough to discuss the process of being in the refiner's fire, so I may revisit this topic in the future if the Lord leads me to do so.

With Christmas just around the corner, I think it's best to take some more time to discern what the Lord wants me to share and when. I want to learn to move in His timing, not my own. Thank you for your patience.

Inspirational Bible Verse:

"The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me lie down in green pastures: he leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul: he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever." - Psalm 23

Psalm 23 is such a wonderful reminder that God is the One who provides for, guides, and protects us through it all. We can rest in Him and find peace. I hope you have a Merry Christmas and be filled with joy in knowing that the gift of salvation is your greatest gift! 🙏
